

Filling the Gap in Accounting and Financial Expertise:

Litigation Support

Litigation involving financial issues is incredibly complicated, often containing complex transactions, detailed financial statements and technical footnotes. Lawyers need unbiased experts to help them understand how accounting rules affect their clients' positions and to translate the issues into language that lawyers, judges and jurors can comprehend.

Blythe Global Advisors provides specialized litigation support by filling the gap in accounting and financial expertise. Our executives bring extensive Big Four experience and perspective to every engagement. We are experts in U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regulations, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOA), and international financial reporting standards (IFRS), and in applying those principles and regulations to intricate transactions. We are experienced in researching, documenting and evaluating complex financial transactions and converting the issues into clear, simple terms.

Our services cover three areas.

- ◆ Review and analysis of documents to evaluate accounting positions taken by companies.
- ◆ Education and guidance on complex accounting transactions and the applicable rules to enable counsel to turn arcane details into compelling arguments.
- ◆ Expert testimony by Blythe Global Advisors or support for counsel's expert witness(es).
